Jun 2, 2017 · 4 I'm trying to find the most general term or phrase for the opposite of "online course". When a course is not online, but in a classroom, or anywhere else people interact in the same place, not through a computer, how would I call it? I'm translating some words used in messages and labels in a e-learning web application used by companies. Which is correct? "...purchased from/in/at your store" Jan 29, 2019 · Agree with all that. You wouldn't use in or at if the purchase was from a website because they imply a physical presence, but somehow "on your website" is idiomatic, whether reading or purchasing. If a physical store has a website that the laptop was purchased from, you could say "from your website" or "from your store". Usually, I know t... word request - Opposite to 'online' where 'offline' won't work ... That's my question. The opposite to online is offline Whether online or offline, marketing is an important thing to boost your business. This is clear. But if I'm talking about something that is on the ground and not on the internet, how do I say it? Whether you have an online store or a ground store, marketing is important thing to boost your ... What is the difference between "in-line" and "inline" Feb 1, 2019 · In the adjective sense, those are the same words as alternative spellings. The one without a hyphen is more common in computer-related cases, such as "an inline function", while the one with a hyphen is, in my experience, more common in mechanical or manufacturing situations - "in-line engine", "in-line manufacturing". The programming and related meanings ... what is the difference between on, in or at a meeting? Mar 17, 2017 · You are too quick to dismiss on; the idea that on suggests a house call is rather old-fashioned—such a case would more likely be expressed as being out on a call. Similarly, on can be used in reference to items on an agenda, and so my assistant might say I am on a meeting, on lunch, or on training if asked for. Difference between online and on line - English Language ... Jul 23, 2016 · When do we use online as one word and when as two words?
