How to Sell a Haunted House Grady Hendrix, 2023-01-17 AN INSTANT NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLER Wildly entertaining.-The New York Times Ingenious.-The Washington Post New York Times bestselling author Grady Hendrix takes on the haunted house in a thrilling new novel that explores the way your past—and your family—can haunt you like nothing else. When Louise finds out her parents have died, she dreads going home. She doesn't want to leave her daughter with her ex and fly to Charleston. She doesn't want to deal with her family home, stuffed to the rafters with the remnants of her father's academic career and her mother's lifelong obsession with puppets and dolls. She doesn't want to learn how to live without the two people who knew and loved her best in the world. Most of all, she doesn't want to deal with her brother, Mark, who never left their hometown, gets fired from one job after another, and resents her success. Unfortunately, she'll need his help to get the house ready for sale because it'll take more than some new paint on the walls and clearing out a lifetime of memories to get this place on the market. But some houses don't want to be sold, and their home has other plans for both of them... Like his novels The Southern Book Club's Guide to Slaying Vampires and The Final Girl Support Group, How to Sell a Haunted House is classic Hendrix: equal parts heartfelt and terrifying—a gripping new read from “the horror master” (USA Today).

Patty has an idea to invite seven friends to the house to "form a Society here for three months" and observe the ghostly happenings around the home. Indeed, in November, friends begin arriving at the house and draw straws to see who gets what room. From these visitors, we get the remaining volumes in "The Haunted House.'

The Haunted House Illustrated Charles Dickens,2020-09-25 The house's reputation for being haunted has caused it to become an avoided house, and although the narrator decides to rent it for six months (from October to March) and live there with his spinster sister (Patty), they cannot retain any servants due to a plethora of bizarre house noises. Therefore, by mid-November, Patty suggests that she and John take the house wholly and solely into our own hands and live without servants, with the exception of Bottles the stable-man who is deaf and therefore not bothered by the haunted noises. Patty further suggests that they invite a group of friends to come down and form a Society that would occupy the house for three months and see what happens as far as supernatural activity in the house is concerned.[1]

There are much scarier things than ghosts. Things that will kill you slowly and delight in your screams. Things that won't let you get out alive. Haunted House. People are dying to leave.
