Hospitality Retail Management Conrad Lashley,2009-11-03 'Hospitality Retail Management' provides students and managers with a practical guide to managing units in hospitality retail organizations. Customers rely on a particular chain of hotels, restaurants or pubs to provide the same level of service and environment across the board. This standardised service provides the customer with the security of knowing what to expect from that particular organisation. However, this standardisation allows little room for creativity for individual managers to respond to the particular needs of their local market. There is a growing realisation that there is greater profitability if the chain can offer both standardised services across all its retail operations while at the same time allowing local managers the freedom to interpret the needs of its local market as they see fit. 'Hospitality Retail Management' shows managers and students how competitive advantage can be gained by adopting management techniques which are both 'tight and loose', and demonstrates how you can manage businesses with well-defined objectives while also allowing local managers to interpret their local market as they see fit. Conrad Lashley has done extensive consultancy with companies such as McDonalds and uses case studies from these companies to reiterate key issues throughout the text.

Server Training Manual D. Lee Lott,2014-01-09 It can be very frustrating as an independent restaurant manager to be constantly training your serving staff and, let's face it, you really don't have the time. You don't always have available to you specific training aids such as those that the big chain restaurants do. And when you do find something, it's just too costly. Well..... until now, that is. The Server Training Manual was developed as a simple guide to help the small independent restaurant manager to easily train their serving staff. This book will teach the serving staff the proper way to take and deliver orders, how to work together as a team, as well as the best way to handle complaints. It will give your staff the basic training to help them offer your customers the excellent service that will have them coming back time and time again. And you know that good service is a very big part of your business.
