Writing the Personal Statement/Letter of Intent/Statement of ... Below you will find general advice for writing this document, as well as questions to ask yourself before and as you're writing. These questions will help you develop your "angle" and structure your writing. If your program provides guidelines for writing the statement/letter, always follow them.

PERSONAL STATEMENTS and STATEMENTS OF PURPOSE Personal statements and statements of purpose are ways for graduate admissions committees (usually made up of program faculty and current graduate students) to learn more about you as an applicant. It is your chance to "sell" your abilities and to tell your story. FOUR-PART "I" STATEMENT - MINDSOURCE Brain Injury Network THE FOUR PARTS OF AN 'I' STATEMENT ARE: The action:....."When..." Your response:....."I feel..." Preferred outcome:....."I would like..." The benefit:....."That way..." 4 Steps to Writing a Personal Statement 4 Steps to Writing a Personal Statement Step 1: Research • Look up the school and program Mission/Vision/Values statements. • Read up on the faculty in each program and their research specialties. • Talk to people in the field you are interested in pursuing. Constructing I-Statements Using I-statements can help you express your feelings in a manner that will not provoke a negative response in your listener. I-statements can take many forms. As you become more skilled in constructing them, you will most likely find yourself coming up with many variations. What Is the Difference Between a Letter of Intent and ... Graduate school applications often require a letter of intent, personal statement, or similar essay. These may highlight your personality, interests, accomplishments, and goals, as they relate to what you want to study and why you want to attend that school to do it. © Binghamton University Ombuds Office It is clear statement that says "this is how it looks from my perspective." Even though "I" messages let you explain and how you would like things to be, it is free of expectations. If you expect the other person to respond as you want them to immediately, you probably have unrealistic expectations.
