Nutraceuticals from Fruit and Vegetable Waste Vidisha Tomer,Navnidhi Chhikara,Ashwani Kumar,Anil Panghal,2024-06-05 “Bioprocessing in Food Science” is a series of volumes covering the entirety of unit operations in food processing. This latest volume disseminates the recent advances, breakthroughs, and challenges of the valorization of fruit and vegetable industry waste. Numerous researchers have studied fruit and vegetable processing and waste valorization in general, but there is little work available to scientists and engineers regarding real-world solutions to practical everyday problems in this industry. The knowledge has to be made available in book format to facilitate academia, researchers, and the food manufacturing industry to utilize waste for extraction of valuable polysaccharides, additives, and nutraceuticals. This groundbreaking new volume is a comprehensive compilation of all the research that has been carried out so far, their practical applications, and the future scope of research. An earnest effort to capture every possible detail and present an up-to-date compilation of scientific literature, including their own research work, for the benefit of the science has been carried out by the editors and experts in their respective fields who contributed. Students, researchers, product developers, and industry professionals will find the book an invaluable resource and a one-of-a-kind tool.

Cero Desperdicios de Alimentos: Estrategias para combatir el hambre Sandra Patricia, Cote Daza, Diana Cristina, Moncayo Martínez, Jesús Alexis, Barón Chivara, Luis Fernando, Carvajal Osorio, 2020-11-11 Colombia es un país rico en biodiversidad. De acuerdo con SSPN (2010), se encuentra dentro de los doce países que albergan el 70% de la biodiversidad de la tierra, con 41000 especies de plantas. La ubicación geográfica del país, cerca de la línea ecuatorial, le permite contar con una gran variedad de frutas, tuérculos, vegetales y horatlizas a lo largo del año, característica de los demás países tropicales y subtropicales de América Latina, en los cuales las diversidades de cultivos sustentan la agricultura y alimentación del mundo. Para 2018 el PIB de alimentos en Colombia alcanzó los 21.32 billones, que representa un crecimiento en las exportaciones de 4.72% en el mismo periodo de tiempo (ANDI, 2019). Desde la Fundación Universitaria Los Libertadores se ha extendido el proyecto y realizado entrevistas y visitas a municipios e interrelación con portadores del saber con relación al desperdicio de alimentos y al cambio que se ha presentado en el tiempo. Así se ha identificado que, en la actualidad, el mundo tiene mayor acceso a la información sobre las problemáticas sociales y ambientales de los territorios, debido a toda la información que se comparte en internet. Una de las iniciativas que tiene gran fuerza es Cero Desperdicio de Alimentos, esta entiende la problemática por las grandes cifras de pérdida de alimentos y las cifras alarmantes de hambre en el mundo (García, 2016). Sumado a esto, se encuentra la búsqueda actual para no generar mayor cantidad de residuos como consecuencia del consumo masivo propio del modelo económico actual, que se ve afectado también por los más de 7.500 millones de personas que habitan el mundo. Según Moya, (2016), sin embargo, es posible establecer que la reutilización de los recursos no es algo del último siglo; al buscar en la historia Latinoamericana, una de las grandes virtudes de las comunidades indígenas fue su conexión con la naturaleza, quienes por temas de supervivencia no desperdiciaban. Posteriormente, el campesino del continente, cuyas prácticas fueron el resultado de la incorporación de numerosas técnicas agrícolas del viejo mundo y de las comunidades indígenas, tienen un estilo de vida más sostenible que el de las personas de la ciudad. Mientras tanto, los habitantes de las urbes parecen haber olvidado este estilo de vida y han adoptado una cultura de los desechables, es decir, se olvidó la importancia de reutilizar. En la actualidad esto es conocido como la economía circular.

Comer para sanar Dr. William W. Li, 2019-08-16 El doctor William W. Li nos revela la poderosa estrategia para estimular la defensa de nuestra salud a través de la alimentación, que derrotará al cáncer en su propio juego. #1 Amazon bestseller en la categoría Alzheimer Cada año el cáncer, la diabetes, la obesidad o el Alzheimer afectan irreversiblemente a millones de personas alrededor del mundo. No obstante, las últimas investigaciones revelan que el poder de defendernos contra estas amenazas reside en una solución simple: los alimentos que consumimos todos los días. Respaldado por una sólida investigación, en Comer para sanar el renombrado doctor William Li -cuya conferencia en TED Talk «¿Podemos comer para que el cáncer muera de hambre?» cuenta con más de 11 millones de visualizaciones- pone finalmente a nuestro alcance el secreto de una salud inquebrantable: una estrategia que depende de nuestras elecciones alimenticias para preservar y reforzar nuestros cinco sistemas naturales de defensa -la angiogénesis, la regeneración, el microbioma, la protección de ADN y la inmunidad-, y de la activación de mecanismos como la anti-angiogénesis, o la prevención del crecimiento de vasos sanguíneos que alimentan tumores malignos y otras formas de degeneración celular. Al mostrarnos el vínculo entre más de 200 alimentos y la prevención de las enfermedades, el doctor Li nos indica el camino para amplificar el poder oculto de nuestro cuerpo y restaurar para siempre nuestra salud.

Desde harina de grillo Annamaria Filomena Ambrosio, Luz Indira Sotelo Díaz, María Paula Deaza Fernández, Bibiana Ramírez Pulido, 2021-09-01 La incorporación de harina de grillo, como ingrediente en la cocina, trae diversos beneficios nutricionales y ambientales. Este ingrediente innovador se valora especialmente por su notorio contenido de proteínas y aminoácidos esenciales; además, su producción tiene un impacto ambiental mínimo, por lo que se considera una fuente proteica sostenible. Los desafíos ambientales que se viven en la actualidad y las proyecciones de crecimiento de la población plantean diversas problemáticas y, a su vez, impulsan la creación de estrategias innovadoras y disruptivas orientadas a mitigar las consecuencias negativas de un sistema de producción de alimentos no sostenible. Por tales razones, en este libro se plantea la utilización de la harina de grillo en la cocina de Cundinamarca, un departamento de Colombia, ubicado en el centro del país, en la región andina, que se caracteriza por su biodiversidad y condiciones ambientales que favorecen la actividad agrícola. En efecto, en las regiones con climas cálidos de este departamento se encuentra la especie de grillo Gryllodes sigillatus (Walker) con base en la cual en la actualidad se está produciendo harina para uso alimentario, un ingrediente versátil que puede ser incluido en diversas preparaciones gastronómicas. El presente libro cuenta con un amplio recetario en el que el lector descubrirá cómo la harina de grillo puede aportar al desarrollo de una alimentación saludable y sostenible.

Antioxidants in Foods and Its Applications Emad Shalaby, Ghada Mostafa Azzam, 2018-07-11 Free radicals are atoms or molecules containing unpaired electrons. Damage occurs when the free radical encounters another molecule and seeks to find another electron to pair its unpaired electron. Free radicals can cause mutation in different biological compounds such as protein, nucleic acids, and lipids, and the damage caused by the free radicals lead to various diseases (cancer, cardiovascular disease, aging, etc.). Antioxidants are helpful in reducing and preventing damage from free radical reactions because of their ability to donate electrons, which neutralize the radical without forming another. Ascorbic acid, for example, can lose an electron to a free radical and remain stable itself by passing its unstable electron around the antioxidant molecule. Unfortunately, new data indicate that the synthetic antioxidants used in the industry could have carcinogenic effects on human cells, thus fueling an intense search for new, natural, and efficient antioxidants. Therefore, the current book discusses the role and source of antioxidant compounds in nutrition and diets. Also, the current book includes nine chapters contributed by experts around the world, and the chapters are categorized into two sections: Antioxidant Compounds and Biological Activities and Natural Antioxidants and Applications.

Mi abuela dijo libro (Recetas médicas populares) Abdalla ALghoul, ¡Alabado sea Allah, que creó una medicina para cada enfermedad, y esto es de Su misericordia para con los siervos, y puso medicina en todo lo que sale de la tierra de plantas, semillas, especias o especias, y curó de cada enfermedad, su conocimiento de su conocimiento, y su ignorancia de su ignorancia! La paz y las bendiciones sean con el maestro de los dos primeros y el último, el Sello de los Profetas y Mensajeros, nuestro maestro Muhammad (que la paz y las bendiciones de Allah sean con él), donde el Mensajero de Allah (que la paz y las bendiciones de Allah sean con él) dijo: Allah no ha enviado una enfermedad, pero le ha enviado una cura.[1] El Mensajero de Dios (que la paz y las bendiciones de Allah descieran sobre él) dijo: Dios no le infligió una enfermedad a menos que le hubiera traído la curación, que conocía por su conocimiento, y su ignorancia por su ignorancia.[2] El Mensajero de Dios (que la paz y las bendiciones de Allah descieran sobre él) dijo: Cúrense a sí mismos, porque Dios no puso una enfermedad excepto para ponerle una medicina que no fuera una enfermedad.[3] En este libro, hemos bautizado viejas recetas naturales que nuestros antepasados han comercializado y trabajado, que están disponibles y son baratas, esperando que sean una medicina para todos los pacientes, y cuáles son las enfermedades más importantes en nuestro tiempo, Hemos seguido en la presentación de los contenidos de este libro Comenzamos mencionando el nombre de la hierba, planta, semilla o aceite y luego mencionamos su composición química (principales contenidos químicos) con sus propiedades curativas A continuación mencionamos una veintena de recetas municipales populares que son fáciles de tomar y de estar al alcance de la mano, para que el lector sea útil Luego empezamos a mencionar enfermedades comunes ordenadas de la cabeza a los pies. Donde tratamos la enfermedad y sus síntomas (para que la persona pueda conocer su enfermedad y descubrir su verdad) Luego presentamos las causas de la enfermedad (para que la persona evite las causas y evite el mal de la enfermedad) Luego presentamos el método de tratamiento herbal o herbal que ayuda a aumentar la inmunidad del cuerpo con el fin de combatir la enfermedad, hay enfermedades que deben tener tratamiento tradicional y el papel de las hierbas aquí es un papel complementario, trabajando para aumentar la efectividad de esos medicamentos y drogas médicas Y descubrí que el libro sería grande, así que tuve que dividir el libro en dos partes, y esta fue la primera parte. Finalmente, le pedimos a Allah Todopoderoso por nosotros y por ustedes salud y bienestar Y que este libro sea un motivo para curar a los enfermos y un medio para revelar los tesoros depositados por Dios Todopoderoso en estas plantas, ya sean vegetales, frutas, semillas o aceites El Mensajero de Dios (que la paz y las bendiciones de Allah descieran sobre él) dijo: El llamado de un musulmán a su hermano en el fondo de lo invisible es respondido, a la cabeza de un rey al que se le confía cada vez que llama a su hermano para que esté bien, el rey que se le ha confiado dice: Amén y tienes una parábola [1]Narrado por Muslim y Bujari.
