Montgomery's classic novel is as memorable as its heroine. When Anne Shirley arrives at Green Gables, she surprises everyone: first of all, she's a girl, even though Marilla Cuthbert and her brother Matthew specifically asked for an orphan boy to help around the farm. And second of all, she's not just any girl: she has bright red hair, a wild imagination, and can talk a mile a minute. But she also has a sweet disposition and quick wit, and Anne (with an "e" of course—it's so much more distinguished!) soon finds her place in Avonlea, making a friend in her neighbor Diana Barry and attending the local school, where she spurns the advances of the popular and handsome Gilbert Blythe when he commits the ultimate sin of making fun of her hair. Anne has a temper as fiery as her hair and a knack for finding trouble, and she also has a big heart and a positive attitude that affects everyone she meets. This classic and beloved story makes a wonderful gift and keepsake.

Two years ago I would have bet a bazillion dollars I would never read a girls book. But at 71 years of age I found myself in a house full of books only one of which I had not read. I am terribly addicted to reading so, in desperation, I started Anne of Green Gables. It is a marvelous book with a main character I wish I could meet every day in real life. Again to feed my addiction I bought the Anne of Green Gables series. Each book was a delight and I soon forgot that they were girls books. Maud created a character we all need in our life. She turns the mundane magical and believable. Reading them all in nearly a continuous setting makes Anne wearying to quote Marilla since unbounded child-like wonder is hard to maintain. I wish I had read these books decades ago so Anne could have helped me through some less than happy times.
