Choices That Change Lives Hal Urban, 2006-01-03 Hal Urban, author of the much-loved bestsellers Life's Greatest Lessons and Positive Words, Powerful Results, gives us his third book of inspirational and practical wisdom on leading a more meaningful and more joyful life. With Choices That Change Lives, Hal reminds us that our lives are the result of our choices and the most important choices we make become our character traits, the ones that lead to fulfillment and peace of mind. He illuminates fifteen character traits that help us more fully develop our capacity to live rich and rewarding lives. Live Like There's No Yesterday John F. Westfall, 2021-05-18 What if yesterday never happened? What if you were free from your old hurts, trauma, sadness, and mistakes? What if you could be healthier, happier, and freer to be yourself? What if your life could be transformed just by changing your mind? It can. Drawing on the call in Romans 12 to be transformed by the renewing of your mind, pastor and speaker John F. Westfall shows how you can overcome yesterday in order to live with hope and gratitude today. A self-described world champion negative thinker, Westfall knows how hard it can be to let go of the past. With great compassion and practical advice, he motivates you to allow the Holy Spirit to change the way you think, releasing you from negative thoughts and destructive patterns. Ready to leave worry, anxiety, and regret behind? Then you're ready to live like there's no yesterday.

Interculturality Between East and West Fred Dervin, Sude, Mei Yuan, Ning Chen, 2022-02-05 This book urges readers to develop a radical capacity to unthink and rethink interculturality, through multiple, pluri-perspectival and honest dialogues between the authors, and their students. This book does not give interculturality a normative scaffolding but envisages it differently by identifying some of its polyphonic textures. China's rich engagement with interculturality serves to support the importance of being curious about other ways of thinking about the notion beyond the 'West' only. As such, the issues of culture, identity, language, translation, intercultural competence and silent transformations (amongst others) are re-evaluated in a different light. This is a highly informative and carefully presented book, providing scientific insights for readers with an interest in interculturality.

Organizing the information of the mind's factory Ehsan GHasemi, 2025-02-07 In this book, the human mind is likened to a factory, where its raw materials are sounds and images that enter through the ears, eyes, and other senses in the form of speech, behavior, and creations from the surrounding environment. The final product of this factory is speech, produced through the mouth, and behavior, manifested by the human. The goal and final product of this factory is the production of value, which is defined as a good feeling (which may come in the form of money, power, fame, character, peace, security, love, etc.). All the efforts of humans around the world, from a newborn in the East of Asia to an elderly person in America, from the beginning of creation to forever, are driven by two causes: 1- To create a good feeling. 2- To avoid feeling bad. In this book, using various engineering sciences, the issues related to controlling the quality of inputs to the mind's factory, the methods of production within the mind, and the quality of the final product of the mind's factory are evaluated and analyzed. Psychological issues and other success and self-help concepts discussed in other books are presented from the perspective of this book in simple language for general use.

Public Broadcasting and the Public Interest Michael P. McCauley, B. Lee Artz, DeeDee Halleck, Paul E Peterson, 2016-09-16 As federal funding for public broadcasting wanes and support from corporations and an elite group of viewers and listeners rises, public broadcasting's role as vox populi has come under threat. With contributions from key scholars from a wide variety of disciplines, this volume examines the crisis facing public broadcasting today by analyzing the institution's development, its presentday operations, and its prospects for the future. Covering everything from globalization and the rise of the Internet, to key issues such as race and class, to specific subjects such as advertising, public access, and grassroots radio, Public Broadcasting and the Public Interest provides a fresh and original look at a vital component of our mass media.

Talent Balancing Jim Stedt, 2005-12-30 When the economy was booming, it was hard to find good people. winning the talent war was a popular phrase, and those individuals with the right stuff could command hefty salaries and perks. When the economy crumbled, the headhunters were sent packing. Today, companies are starting to hire again, but instead of recruiting a group of fifty, they're hiring five. They're outsourcing and hiring temps. They're replacing staff due to turnovers, retirements, and areas that were downsized, rather than expanding. They're relying on reduced HR departments and in-house managers and staff to make critical staffing decisions. Surprisingly, in this environment, good people are hard to find; the top performers are staying where they are, and it's the weak and marginal performers that make up most of the available talent pool. Talent Balancing draws from the author's 35 years in the field to present a fresh and practical approach to recruiting in today's volatile and uncertain environment. In particular, Talent Balancing will help entrepreneurs and managers without formal recruitment training navigate organizational politics, analyze current and future staffing needs, and execute a successful plan. Whether you are ramping up a new team or department or filling a temporary spot, Talent Balancing provides a wealth of insights and tools to ensure that your organization meets both immediate and long-term goals.
