Fifteenth- to Eighteenth-century European Drawings Egbert Haverkamp Begemann (Kunsthistoriker), Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.), 1999 Early European art was a consuming interest of both Robert Lehman and his father, Philip Lehman, an interest reflected in the remarkable number and quality of drawings they owned from the fifteenth and early sixteenth centuries. In addition to an important group of early German drawings, the collection includes a Saint Paul from a series associated with Jan van Eyck and the famous Scupstoel from the circle of Rogier van der Weyden, the only design for a decorative sculpture to survive from the fifteenth century. The great artists of the seventeenth century, Peter Paul Rubens, Jacob Jordaens, Claude Lorrain, and Rembrandt among them, are also represented, Rembrandt by seven drawings, including the large study of Leonardo's Last Supper that would stay in his mind all through his career. Drawings by Antoine Watteau, Jean-Honoré Fragonard, Gabriel de Saint-Aubin, Thomas Gainsborough, Paul Sandby, and George Romney are among the many from eighteenth-century France and England. The volume discusses all 153 drawings at length, placing each in its art historical setting and complementing the discussion with comparative illustrations of related works. This e-book on the MetPublications website is also accompanied by links to related works and under the Additional resourcestab are links to Met works of art and Heilbrunn Timeline of Art History essays and timelines (viewed May 1, 2014).

Perspectives On Western Art Linnea Wren, 2018-02-22 This anthology of readings related to Western art history explains specific works of art illustrated in Janson's History of Art and De la Croix and Tansey's Gardner's Art Through the Ages in terms of the ideas, beliefs, and concerns of the people and cultures who created the art. It brings a new understanding of art because it shows the social and cultural basis of major works of art through history. The ten sections are Ancient Near East; Egyptian; Aegean; Greek; Etruscan; Roman; early Christian, Byzantine, and Islamic; early Medieval; Romanesque; and Gothic. The readings have been drawn from many areas of intellectual and social history, including religion, philosophy, literature, science, economics, and law. Each selection is preceded by an introductory note, which discusses the readings in terms of its subject and theme, its source and usage, and its relevance to the study of the work of art.

The Painter's Touch Ewa Lajer-Burcharth, 2018-01-08 A new interpretation of the development of artistic modernity in eighteenth-century France What can be gained from considering a painting not only as an image but also a material object? How does the painter's own experience of the process of making matter for our understanding of both the painting and its maker? The Painter's Touch addresses these questions to offer a radical reinterpretation of three paradigmatic French painters of the eighteenth century. In this beautifully illustrated book, Ewa Lajer-Burcharth provides close readings of the works of François Boucher, Jean-Siméon Chardin, and Jean-Honoré Fragonard, entirely recasting our understanding of these painters' practice. Using the notion of touch, she examines the implications of their strategic investment in materiality and sheds light on the distinct contribution of painting to the culture of the Enlightenment. Lajer-Burcharth traces how the distinct logic of these painters' work—the operation of surface in Boucher, the deep materiality of Chardin, and the dynamic morphological structure in Fragonard—contributed to the formation of artistic identity. Through the notion of touch, she repositions these painters in the artistic culture of their time, shifting attention from institutions such as the academy and the Salon to the realms of the market, the medium, and the body. Lajer-Burcharth analyzes Boucher's commercial tact, Chardin's interiorized craft, and Fragonard's materialization of eros. Foregrounding the question of experience—that of the painters and of the people they represent—she shows how painting as a medium contributed to the Enlightenment's discourse on the self in both its individual and social functions. By examining what paintings actually “say” in brushstrokes, texture, and paint, The Painter's Touch transforms our understanding of the role of painting in the emergence of modernity and provides new readings of some of the most important and beloved works of art of the era.

Der Salon und die Pariser Kunstszene unter Napoleon I. Eva Knels,2019-07-24 Der Pariser Salon war die größte und wichtigste Ausstellung zeitgenössischer Kunst in Europa im 19. Jahrhundert. Er war Bühne künstlerischer Selbstvermarktung und Ort des Wettstreits, Kunstmesse, Massenattraktion, kulturelles Aushängeschild und staatliches Propaganda-instrument in einem; er versammelte Künstler, Kritiker, Sammler und Händler, war Anlass für ästhetische Debatten und zog ein internationales, sozial heterogenes Publikum in seinen Bann. Die Salons des Konsulats und des Premier Empire (1799-1814) wurden von Napoleon und seinen Beratern als Bühne und Werkzeug politischer Propaganda genutzt. Diesem tiefgreifenden Wandel der Ausstellung hatten sich Künstlerinnen und Künstler anzupassen. Gleichzeitig mussten sie auf neue künstlerische Trends reagieren, um sich in der Pariser Kunstszene behaupten zu können. Erfolg und Reichweite der Salons dieser Jahre lassen sich nicht nur an steigenden Aussteller- und Besucherzahlen ablesen. Auch die vielfältigen Formen ihrer Rezeption - in Zeitungen und Zeitschriften, Briefen, Reiseberichten und graphischen Sammelbänden - belegen die Strahlkraft der Ausstellung, die Frankreichs Grenzen überstieg. Auf einer breiten Basis größtenteils unveröffentlichter Quellen untersucht Eva Knels die Organisation der Ausstellung, die teilnehmende Künstlerschaft sowie die internationalen Reaktionen auf den Salon, unter Berücksichtigung des komplexen Wandels der Kunstszene zu Beginn des 19. Jahrhunderts. Dabei nimmt die Autorin die wechselseitigen Zusammenhänge von Kunstpolitik, künstlerischer Produktion und deren Rezeption in den Blick. * The Paris Salon was the largest and most important contemporary art exhibition in 19th-century

Europe. It was a stage for artistic self-promotion and a place of competition, an art fair, popular attraction, cultural flagship and state propaganda instrument rolled into one; it brought together artists, critics, collectors and dealers, was a stimulus for aesthetic debates and brought an intellectual and socially heterogeneous public under its spell. The Salons of the Consulate and First Empire (1799-1814) were used by Napoleon and his advisers as a stage and tool for political propaganda. Artists had to adapt to this far-reaching change to the exhibition. At the same time they had to react to new artistic trends in order to maintain their place in the Paris art scene. The success and scope of the Salons in these years are demonstrated not only by the rising numbers of exhibitors and visitors. The many forms of their reception – in newspapers and magazines, letters, travel diaries and volumes of reproductions – are also evidence of the exhibition's wide appeal, which reached beyond the borders of France. Based on a wide range of largely unpublished sources, Eva Knels examines the organisation of the exhibition, the participating artists, and the international reaction to the Salon, with reference to the complex changes in the art world in the early 19th century. The author's perspective includes the changing interrelationships between artistic policies, artistic production and the reception of art.
