Socializing Art Museums Alejandra Alonso Tak, Ángel Pazos-López, 2020-08-24 Art museums today face the challenge of opening themselves up as institutions to a changing society. This publication offers new perspectives on museological trends that are developing in various countries and cultures. Through increasingly flexible, inclusive and unexpected museum typologies, institutions aim to give their visitors greater access to art. The essays define the role of the museum as a medium of social change, as a protagonist in an education process and as a technologically innovative platform. Art historians, but also practitioners from the museum world – including curators, architects and psychologists – examine what is expected of art museums using case studies and against the background of the humanities and social sciences.

España en la música alemana de las primeras generaciones románticas (1800-1830) Nicolás Javier Casas

Calvo,2022 Este trabajo tiene por objeto indagar sobre el papel de España en la música alemana, especialmente en la ópera de las primeras generaciones románticas. Durante siglos, el interés por España de determinadas naciones europeas como Francia, Alemania o Italia se había manifestado en diversos ámbitos como el de la literatura, algo muy bien estudiado desde la filología y la literatura comparada. Este interés, más allá de una mera curiosidad antropológica, se convirtió, en determinadas épocas, en verdadera pasión por lo español que inundó el teatro, la novela, pero también la ópera, como demuestra el conocido ejemplo de Carmen de Bizet. Pero en todo este fenómeno, no sólo operaba un interés superficial por los temas, las ambientaciones o los tipos españoles transmitidos por la literatura sino también una influencia profunda en las formas de arte europeo como se ha demostrado ya, por ejemplo, al relacionar el libreto de Die Zauberflöte de Mozart con El purgatorio de San Patricio de Calderón. Tras comprobar el enorme interés de los temas españoles en la ópera alemana de principios del siglo y también en la música instrumental, se pudo comprobar cómo este interés iba unido a una nueva forma de vida y de arte que era el romanticismo; puesto que se trata de un fenómeno cultural de gran magnitud y no solo una moda puntual y superficial, se ha empleado una metodología propia de la historia -y no solo de la música- para su comprensión: el método histórico de las generaciones, desarrollado por la llamada Escuela de Madrid en los años 30 del siglo XX. El método nos proporcionó la cronología de nuestro trabajo, que se corresponde con los períodos de máxima expresión artística de los primeros románticos, aquellos nacidos en torno a1770 -primera generación- y en torno 1785 -segunda generación-: así pues, el marco cronológico que este estudio abarca es el de 1800 a 1830...
