Status of the Dark Energy Survey Camera (DECam) Project The DECam filters push the limits of filter manufacturers due to our large clear aperture (600 mm) and tight uniformity requirements (see table 3). Asahi Spectra Co., of Tokyo, Japan is under contract with Fermilab for fabrication of the 5 DECam filters. Brighter / fatter effect in DECam - Indico First science results out, more to come soon! These are lots of parameters, but a priori we expect... + brighter / fatter! The quirks and qualities (University of Pennsylvania) and the ... Both g and i measurements are consistent with the r band baseline model within 10%. For the (0,1) lag, the increase from g to Y band is at the 40% level between the g and Y band.
