"Historic buildings enliven the memories of how people lived in the past, which make each country How to use "make" and/or "make for" in this sense? The phrase makes for has a more specific meaning that the word makes and in this context limits its definition to the following: to help maintain or promote; further "What makes..." and "Why is..." : How different are they? Jun 14, 2015 · What makes is asking what thing, condition or feature that is present Why is is asking for a reason, cause or condition behind the observation Both serve the same general meaning, as both are not asking for an accurate or specific explanation. Answers are probably not going to reflect the specific meaning of that difference: so it is probably ... grammatical number - Is it "makes" or "make" in this sentence ... Makes is the correct form of the verb, because the subject of the clause is which and the word which refers back to the act of dominating, not to France, Spain, or Austria. The sentence can be rewritten as: The domination throughout history by France, Spain, and Austria alternately over Milan makes it a city full of different cultural influences. Should I use "make" or "makes" in the following statement? Should I use make or makes in the following statement: Please explain why your experience and qualifications makes you the best candidate for this position grammaticality - which MAKE or which MAKES (difficult one) Sep 26, 2019 · This does not work. To rectify the problem, you could include a noun antecedent. The issue of makes or make then resolves itself because the grammatical number of the antecedent determines the number of the verb. For example: I admire teachers who are knowledgeable and patient, qualities which make their students feel confident. Should I use make or makes? - English Language Learners ... Jun 4, 2020 · "Makes" is the third-person singular simple present tense of "make", so if a singular thing makes you mad, it repeatedly does so, or does so on an ongoing basis. A word to refer to the sound that an elevator makes when its ... Sometimes when you are going up an elevator, you kind of hear this sound as if the cables that are lifting the elevator are having some difficulties. Like the sound that a car makes when it abruptly Make or Makes for - English Language & Usage Stack Exchange Dec 5, 2014 · To make for is an idiom with several different meanings. In the context of this question, the approximate meaning is 'to produce', 'to represent' or 'to constitute': Raw earthworms make for grim eating = Raw earthworms represent an unpleasant kind of food Dobermans make for great guard dogs = Dobermans have the qualities needed to make them ... singular vs plural - Make or Makes within a sentence? -

English ... Jul 3, 2020 · The formal and traditional answer is makes, because the subject is the singular noun phrase receiving homemade cupcakes. In actual speech, and even sometimes in writing, many people say make, under the influence of the more recent plural noun cupcakes. I would recommend saying makes, but be prepared to hear make.
