Cruz Ibérica Francisco de Sales González, 2024-06-18 Cruz Ibérica, Asalto al Banco Atlántico, Memorias desde Iberoamérica, relata en la primera parte y capítulo primero los ideales de Cruz Ibérica, grupo político, entonces, del autor; los pormenores del asalto al Banco Atlántico, el cúmulo de estafas financieras reflejadas en un primer apartado, y la cárcel. En el segundo capítulo, el autor narra cronológicamente hasta los primeros años de matrimonio. En el tercero desarrolla los veintiséis trabajos ejercidos en España, Bolivia, Chile, Argentina, Venezuela y Estados Unidos. La segunda parte describe sus pensamientos en el orden político, social, económico y moral haciendo hincapié en el concepto de la Globalización, la Leyenda Negra, la gesta de Simón Bolívar y las causas de la pérdida de Hispanoamérica por parte de España. En la obra se detallan tres apartados de estafas bancarias, conocidas y publicadas por los medios de comunicación, después de haber desarrollado funciones directivas en varios de ellos por más de doce años. Esta experiencia y su formación política y económica fueron los motivos causantes del asalto al Banco Atlántico por su grupo político, Cruz Ibérica. Ha recorrido dieciocho países en tres continentes, Europa, América y Asia, en varios de los cuales ha vivido largos años. Confiesa, con Maslow, que su personalidad se fue formando con nuevas experiencias, lo que ha ido viviendo durante sus estancias en tantos lugares y, en todos ellos, ha permanecido vivo un real sentimiento: España, como centro universal católico demostrado a través de siglos enteros de su historia. Se escribió y finalizó este libro en Santa Cruz de la Sierra, Bolivia, en los umbrales de 2023, a sus ochenta años de edad. «Muchos creen que los hombres debemos estar al servicio de las ideas, y no éstas a nuestro servicio. El hombre es superior a las ideas y éstas sirven para servirle antes que él para servir las». Unamuno

Indigenous Peoples and the private sector Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2025-01-31 This study presents the systematization of relationships deemed successful between Indigenous Peoples and private sector organizations in Latin America. The intention of this study is to foster the incorporation of new dimensions that strengthen the impact of Indigenous Peoples in the transformation of their relationship with private entities, making them more symmetrical and transparent, for the benefit of society as a whole. Twelve experiences were selected from eight Latin American countries, corresponding to diverse productive sectors, such as metallic and non-metallic mining, food, tourism, gastronomy, energy and hydrocarbons. In these experiences, Indigenous Peoples are predominantly negotiators of agreements, but in some cases they also participate as trading partners. Furthermore, this report includes cases in which the state has various levels of participation and influence in achieving agreements or agreements. The study shows that, although mutually beneficial relationships between companies and communities are not the norm, they can be established. Even so, positive relationships usually emerge from long processes, from the development of trust on both sides and with great contribution from international agreements on the matter. Additionally, the document recommends that companies consider local Indigenous communities as partners, rather than beneficiaries, and align their mission with greater knowledge and understanding of Indigenous Peoples. States are recommended to ensure compliance with international regulations and strengthen their capacity in this regard. The recommendation for Indigenous Peoples is to include among their assets the impact and interaction with the non-Indigenous world, and finally, it is recommended that international organizations move towards the binding nature of international agreements on the matter, among other recommendations.
